

In the authentication system, the user can do sign in action to log into the app using his/her account, logout action to go back to the sign in page, register action to create an account, and change password action to update password.